

An old guy approaches the window of a movie theater with a chicken on his shoulder, and asks for two tickets. The girl at the counter wants to know who is going with him. He replies, "Well, my pet chicken, of course!"

"I'm sorry," The girl tells him. "We can't allow animals in the theater." The guy goes around back and stuffs the chicken into his pants. He returns to the window and buys one ticket and goes inside. The chicken starts to get hot and begins to squirm, so the man unzips his pants so the chicken can stick his head out and watch the movie. Seated next to him is a woman. She looks over at his lap and is horrified. She elbows her friend Myrtle and whispers, "Myrtle, this man over here has just unzipped his pants!" Myrtle whispers back, "Oh, don't worry about it... you've seen one, you've seen them all. Agnes says, 'I know... but this one's eating my POPCORN.'"

Surgical gowns are green because red blood is less irritating to the sight against it. The two colors are complimentary so the red is dulled when absorbed by the green.

Dumb and Dumber walk into the library, look around, and then get in line at the counter. Once they get to the head of the line, they loudly say, "We'd like a Big Mac, large fries, and a coke." The librarian looks at them for a moment, then she whispers to Dumb and Dumber, "Sirs, this is the library." Dumb and Dumber looks at each other, then nod. Then they Whisper, "We'd like a Big Mac, large fries and a coke.."

While taking a routine vandalism report at an elementary school, I was interrupted by a little girl about 6 years old. Looking up and down my uniform, she asked, "Are you a cop?" "Yes", I answered and continued writing the report. "My mother said if I ever needed help I should ask the police, Is that right?" "Yes that's right," I told her. "Well, then," she said as she extended her foot towards me, "would you please tie my shoe?"

I reminded my 93-year-old mother on a daily basis of any appointments she may have that day. Several times during one conversation after I had told her I'd pick her up at 2:15 to go to the dentist, she asked me to repeat the time. She expressed concern that she couldn't remember. "Mother." I said. "Your short-term memory is not very good, but your long-term memory is great." "Well, then," she replied, "tell me a month ahead."

A defendant in a lawsuit involving large sums of money was saying to his lawyer, "If I lose this case, I'll be ruined."

"It's in the judge's hands now," said the lawyer.

"Would it help if I sent the judge a box of cigars,"asked the defendant.

"Oh no!" said the lawyer. "The judge is a slicker for ethical behavior. A stunt like that would prejudice him against you. He might even find you in contempt of court. In fact, you shouldn't even smile at him. Within the course of time, the judge rendered a decision in favor of the defendant. As the defendant left the courthouse, he said to his lawyer. "Thanks for the tip about the cigars. It worked."

"I'm sure we would have lost the case if you'd sent them," said the lawyer.

"But I did send them." Said the defendant.

"What? You did?"

"Yes, That's how we won the case."

"I don't understand," said the lawyer.

"It's easy. I sent the cheapest cigars that I could find to the judge, but enclosed the plaintiff's business card."

I spent more than 2 hrs. in the beauty shop getting my hair permed, cut and styled. Relieved to be done, I went up to the receptionist to pay. "Good afternoon!" she said cheerfully. "And who's your appointment with today?"

A woman complaining to a marriage counselor, about her husband, said: "He won a trip for two to Hawaii and he went twice!"

Husband: I've taken you safely over all the rough spots in life, haven't I?

Wife: Yes, I don't think you missed any of them.
